1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

2. Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Suganuma (USPN 6,464,044).

Suganuma teaches a wheelchair wheel immobilizer, for each wheel 18, including a pivoting wheel stop 84 with a detent 62 and a rotating cam 190 with a first receiver (in position seen in Figure 8) for the detent and a lever. The lever rotates the cam such that the detent moves out of position with the first receiver and urges the wheel stop into contact with the wheel. The embodiment of Figure 23 includes cables and links 354-378 that form a continuous flexible linkage between the pivoting wheel stops. The cam has a circular end (where the lever 170 is attached) and a generally circular shape. Cams, by definition, are not entirely circular.

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Blondee, Kuschall, Moody, Boyes, Jungersen, and Strauss teach wheelchair brakes.

Ohie et al. shows a pivotable brake 14 with a detent 22 that cooperates with a cam 44 having a receiver that engages the detent when the brake is not engaged and whereby the cam moves the brake into contact with a parking gear 12 when the detent is removed from the receiver.
